Harvard-Yale Hockey Game. CAMBRIDGE, Feb. 1. That Harvard-Yale hockey game date which has been such a bone of contention between the two managements will be decided on Friday when Graduate Manager W. F. Garcelon of Harvard and Dr. W. G. Anderson of Vale, who has charge of the minor sports at New Haven, mest by appointment on a train running between Boston and New York. If Vale insists that the game shall be played in New York the game doubtless will be scheduled there, but Harvard hopes to offer inducements sufficient to make the Yale men willing to come to Boston to play. It is not likely that the original date. February 11, will be adhered to, as several of the Harvard players would be unable to go out of town at that time because of examinations. There would also be a conflict with the big indoor track games held by the B. A. A. February 13 is now suggested as the date. agements will be decided on Friday when Crescent Team Wins From Hockey Club. hall Scores Two Goals for Losers.

The Crescent Athletic Club hockey enthusiasts had a hard jolt last night. Their team played against the Hockey Club of New York and came very near to being beaten. The score was 8 to 4 in favor of the Crescent team, but for a long time they had hard work to keep the aggressive Hockey Club players from snatching a game and thus spoiling their channess of winning the championship. Two of the Hockey Club goals were made by Crescent men, one by Jackson, who tried to stop a pass by Fredericks, sending the puck into the net, and the other by Thomas, who just tipped another shot so that it bounded into the gage.

Shirreff did not play on the Crescent team. He has strained a ligament in his leg and took a rest, as the team has some hard games ahead. Bill Dobby, the veteran, took a position on the line and Jackson played rover. Dobby, the old warhorse, snowed that he can still play hockey. He is not quite as fast as he used to be, but he can handle the stick and is always in his position. Two of the goals were scored by Dobby, and friends and foes in the house cheered.

It was a hard game, tripping was frequent and checking hard, but only one player was hurt. McKenzie, who was suffering from a bruised hip, fell and had to retire, and the Crescent team dropped Jackson to even things up.

The game started briskly and for a few minutes the play was in Hockey Club terriend of the rink and Thomas made some file stops. After six minutes of fast play Davidson rushed the puck down the tee.

James S. Marvin, general traffic manager for the National Association of Automobile Manufacturers, who handled the matter of admitting gasolene motor trucks to tiers, says: 'It is getting easier to count the docks where trucks are not admitted, although companies with which we are still negotiating include the French Line and International Mercantile Marine, which controls the American, Dominion, Atlantic Transport, Leyland, Red Star and White Star lines.

"Manufacturers and dealers of commercial vehicles have expressed themselves to us as extremely gratified at these changed conditions and merchants who are using self-propelled trucks are of the same mind.
